2 COUNTRIES, 2 DEGREES - HOW TO APPLY

Your step-by-step guide towards successful enrollment

On the basis of six collaborating partner universities, IBSA offers students to earn two degrees in two different countries within 18 months – or fast track in one year. Briefly put, this means that you will be studying the core modules of the first term at one of the six partner universities and relocate to another partner university for the specialization term. In a third term, you will be writing your master's thesis about a topic related to your specialization area. Each partner university has its own accredited degree program. The content of the core modules is identical at all six universities.

- When applying, you should have already made a decision about your chosen core modules university and your preferred specialization.
- Once this decision has been made, please apply to your favorite core modules university and mention your preferred specialization area during the process.
- The specialization university will be informed by the first university you applied to (the core modules university). You do not need to apply to both universities.
- The IBSA partner where you intend to spend your first term will be in touch with you and will send you an admission letter after having checked your application documents.
- The second IBSA partner will be informed by the first and will contact you shortly afterwards. You do not need to apply to your specialization university.

ALUMNI

Svetoslava Nikolova from Bulgaria, International Business School Alliance Graduate 2016

The IBSA program gave me the opportunity to obtain a dual degree in two different countries, in the areas I was interested in.

"The first semester contains the core subjects and the second is the specialization semester and I chose "Logistics and Supply Chain Management" at IGC, Bremen. The international approach, that the program offers, gave me the vision and prepared me for the current reality, where most of the companies work in an international environment. I was very pleased with my experience at IGC, where all the team was built from great professionals, who had the main goal to transfer knowledge, help, support and prepare the students in the very best way. It felt like the whole IGC together with the students was one big family. Great friendships were made between all of us. I would highly recommend the "Logistics and Supply Chain Management" at IGC, Bremen."
